

CHURCH MUSIC DUBLIN
ARCHBISHOP OF DUBLIN'S CERTIFICATE IN CHURCH MUSIC
APPLICATION FORM 2020/21

Purpose of the course: To provide participants with the appropriate skills and expertise to provide and lead music in parish churches.

The course consists of: Organ tuition – 28 individual organ lessons in each academic year. Seminars held annually on the place and role of music in worship. Occasional sessions in choir training and encouraging congregational song are included. The opportunity to work alongside a parish musician in the final year of the course is given. Students are expected to attend all parts. A short interview/audition is held before a place on the course is offered.

Application procedure: Please print this form, complete it, and have it signed on behalf of the supporting parish church (and Diocesan Council if from outside the diocese of Dublin and Glendalough).

Please post the completed form, ensuring that it is signed by the student (parent/guardian if applicable) and a representative of the parish, to:

Jacqueline Mullen, 23 Ludford Park, Ballinteer, Dublin 16.

The application should arrive before 19 July 2020. Applications will be acknowledged by email.

Conditions: The course is open to members of the Church of Ireland who must be nominated by a parish. Members of other Christian traditions may apply. If accepted, different financial arrangements will be made.

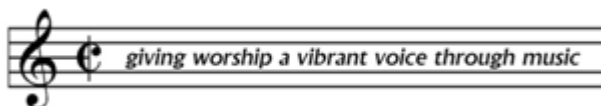

The student agrees to attend all organ tuition and attend seminars and tutorials as arranged.

The student agrees to keep in touch with the nominating parish and, subject to the advice of their organ tutor, to avail of work experience provided by the parish.

In order to proceed to Years 2 and 3, students must pass the end of year examination.

The nominating parish agrees to keep in touch with the student and take an interest in their training and to make available appropriate opportunities to be involved in the worship of the parish. The parish may be approached by Church Music Dublin to discuss ways in which the student has participated.

Fees must be paid in full by 31 August 2020. Once paid, fees are not refundable in the event of withdrawal from the course before the end of the academic year. However, any unexpended portion of the fees paid may be applied towards the cost of future courses, subject to the deduction of an administration fee. The student is responsible for the cost of organ music, books, travel and subsistence if parts of the course are held away from Dublin.
